

CLAUSE 28, CHILDREN'S PROTECTION CHRISTIAN DEMOCRATS

Britain's greatness was built on the foundations of God-fearing parents bringing up their children on Bible standards of good behaviour, teaching their children what is right and what is wrong and to always speak the truth.

Children used to be taught, and should still be taught, that they are very precious in God's sight and that they should ask God to keep them pure and to ask God to eventually lead them to someone else who has also been kept pure, so that they can be a happy husband and wife and be a good example to their children.

Such families will not produce problems with drugs, booze, crime, gambling and abortion. But, when little girls are taught in school that unmarried sex and abortion are OK (if it's OK to kill a little baby, then can anything else be wrong?) and schoolboys are taught that homosex is OK for them, then many of those children are going to exhibit outrageous anti-social and criminal behaviour in reaction to the fact that the government values them so cheaply.

The government has brought in legislation to protect the foxes from the naughty doggies, but has used the national emergency law (The Parliament Act) to abolish the Children's Protection Law, Clause 28 in order to promote homosexuality in school, which Clause 28 outlaws.

The European Union is awash with corruption. 1500 girls are imported daily from the East for the Euro brothels. Paris alone has 8000 child prostitutes. Killer drugs ruin young lives, the unwanted elderly are routinely killed and AIDS is rampant. The Euro Secret Police, the 'Europol', are immune from prosecution if they injure or kill you in custody, etc.,etc. Millions of our servicemen died to free us from Euro dictatorship, so why pay £700 per second to stay in EU membership?
